Advocacy Statements

A Statement on Recent Gun Violence

Statement by The Graduate & Professional Student Assembly (GAPSA)
University of Pennsylvania

June 9, 2022

This past weekend our community suffered the tragic loss of three Philadelphians in a mass shooting event. This shooting took place only three days after the hospital shooting in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and within two weeks of the elementary school shooting in Uvalde, Texas. The Graduate & Professional Student Assembly (GAPSA) is grieving the loss of the recent victims of gun violence.

Our thoughts and prayers are with the families, friends, and loved ones of the victims and all of those who have been impacted by these events. However, we believe that thoughts and prayers are not sufficient to ameliorate gun violence and prevent the loss of innocent lives. As GAPSA, we strongly condemn these violent acts and we call on our federal, state, and local legislators for meaningful violence prevention measures and gun policy reform.

We know that these recent incidents have raised additional safety concerns among Penn students, faculty, staff, parents, and affiliated communities. In the wake of these heartbreaking events, we encourage Penn-affiliated individuals to explore and access the Public Safety and Wellness resources listed below.

In these challenging times, please continue to take care of yourself and each other. Let us know how we, as GAPSA, can continue to support you all as we stand against these senseless acts of violence and stay strong together.

A Statement on Abortion & Reproductive Care

Statement by the Executive Board of the Graduate & Professional Student Assembly (GAPSA)
University of Pennsylvania

August 3, 2022

On June 24, 2022, the United States Supreme Court's ruling in Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health overturned Roe v. Wade, revoking the constitutional right to abortion and leaving abortion access to the discretion of individual states.

We, the Executive Board of the Graduate and Professional Student Assembly (GAPSA), acknowledge that this ruling, along with its implications and potential impacts, raises many concerns and anxiety for students and members of the Penn community. Restricting access to safe abortions will jeopardize a right to bodily autonomy, and adversely impact maternal mortality, maternal & infant health, and general mental well-being. Furthermore, the lack of safe and legal abortions will disproportionately impact underserved and marginalized populations who already have limited access to healthcare.

In light of this ruling, we highlight reproductive care services and support available to Penn students:

WELLNESS AT PENN

Student Health and Counseling (SHAC), formerly known as Student Health Service and CAPS, offers clinical services to all Penn students:

- For Medical services, students can go to 3535 Market Street, First Floor, and call 215-746-3535 (24/7)
- Gynecologic Care: SHAC provides services such as gynecological care, contraception counseling & prescriptions, preventive care, and pregnancy testing & options counseling. Appointments for gynecological and reproductive care are confidential and available to Penn's gender-diverse community
- Contraception: SHAC provides many forms of contraceptives for birth control and menstrual regulation. Information about emergency contraception available at Penn and local pharmacies can be found here
- For Counseling services, students can go to 3624 Market Street, First Floor West, and call 215-898-7021 (24/7)

Public Health and Wellbeing (formerly Campus Health) fosters a community of care through advocacy, education, and action. This includes disease surveillance and prevention, health education and promotion, campus health policies, and immunization and insurance compliance.

- 3535 Market Street, Suite 50
- Immunization and Insurance Compliance: 215-746-4200
- Public Health: 215-898-0300

Abortion is still legal in Pennsylvania. Wellness at Penn's information sheet on abortion and Philadelphia referrals can be found here.

We encourage those who are eligible to vote to make their voices heard in the upcoming elections as the election outcomes will be critical to our rights and our future. Once again we stand with the Penn community and beyond to advocate for and support access to safe, evidence-based reproductive care.

This year, we issued many statements, participated in DP/newspaper interviews, and wrote letters to administrations to advocate for our student body.

Statement of Support for Students & Scholars affected by the earthquake in Turkey and Syria

The members of the International Student Table for Advocacy & Relations \(ISTAR\) are deeply saddened by the devastation caused by the series of earthquakes that struck Turkey and Northern Syria on the morning of 6th February 2023. Our hearts ache for the countless lives lost, innumerable destroyed homes, and the trauma and pain of those affected by the devastation. We would like to extend our support to all students whose families, friends, and homes are affected by this calamity.

Please refer to the list of resources available to you on campus to find the support you need through this tough time.
